ATLAS Project Presents:

Assistive Technologies are designed to provide accessibility to individuals of all ages and abilities who have physical or cognitive difþculties, impairments and disabilities.

The production of these alternative input devices has raised interesting opportunities and challenges for education, in teaching and learning environment. These issues will be explored in order to inform our future direct0 0 i