

- Don't forget to publish your course –If your course is not published, students will not have access (see below video for instruction on how to publish a course)
- Send an email or announcement to students before the start of the semester. There is a problem here, we cannot email or send announcements to students (via Canvas) until the semester begins –Canvas is set to open Sunday, June 18th. If you would like to contact your students ahead of time –using Canvas- then see this video for instructions: <http://youtu.be/JNQeCufdgRk?hd=1>

Below are some links to videos I have created to help with Canvas:

Melody and I will not be on campus: Monday 6/19- Wednesday 6/21; we will both be attending a conference. If you need help with Canvas, feel free to email me. I will be checking my email throughout the day; I am also happy to Zoom with any of you who need help.

Please note, we do have Canvas support:

- Canvas Support Hotline: (877) 893-9583
 - Canvas Guides: <https://community.canvaslms.com/community/answers/guides/>
- Both of these resources are very helpful; I use them almost on a daily basis
